We Want NO WAR

Willkie Misrepresents 22 Million Voters

BOSTON, Mass.,—Dear Mr. Willkie:

You got a great reception in England. You got it because an impression had somehow been given, or arose, that you were there as the bringer or forerunner of great gifts—for those tortured souls the greatest gift of all—the injection of your country into their war.

The indications are that you are coming back here to help emote through congress a bill giving one American man, and us, responsibility for the conduct and outcome of this war at a risk of both the political and economic institutions of the United States. A measure for which, if you had uttered such support before last November, you would not have carried a single state. These ballyhoo antics do not "represent 22,000,000 American voters". They only misrepresent the zealots who sacrificed greatly to nominate you and many of 22,000,000 who tried to elect you.

HUGH S. JOHNSON.

Blah, Blah Willkie

Just Campaign Oratory

PHILADELPHIA,—At a Lincoln day dinner here Sen. Nye, of North Dakota, termed Wendell Willkie's support of the measure a "betrayal" and a step toward destruction of the two-party system.

Nye said that during the presidential campaign Willkie had charged "again and again that the Roosevelt administration was edging us toward war by careless speech and careless action," On Tuesday, he continued, Willkie was "confronted . . . with these campaign declarations . . . His explanations were arrogant and an insult to the American electorate . . . What was his explanation? Merely this: 'It was a bit of campaign oratory'."

Zionist Prepares U. S. for War

WASHINGTON,— New Dealers have been somewhat appeased by selection of Ben Cohen as counselor to Ambassador Winant in London, but that is not what they want. Cohen worked with Winant in drawing and setting up the social security organization. Earlier he acted in the same capacity as legal counselor in establishing the Zionist movement in Palestine.—Paul Mallon.

Selling Us Down the Road to War

WASHINGTON,— Wire pulling on the lease-lend-gift bill showed Mr. Roosevelt at his unexcelled best. Even the congressional handlers, who are already congratulating themselves on what a good job they are doing, admit that. Trunk wire representing the most brilliant presidential achievement was that set up through despatch of the president's friend, Harry Hopkins, to London. Obviously Hopkins let the British know what should be said and done to push the bill along. Churchill's irresistible words were his own, but the timing and vocal arrangement were set by Hopkins for the opening of the senate fight.

Second best arranged blow was the appearance of Wendell Willkie.

Through it all the White House did not have to say a word.—Paul Mallon.

Why Russia Won't Help Bulgaria

As long as Americans refuse to see the agents provocateurs behind this war and the world situation in general, with reference to our own country in particular, one won't be able to understand what's going on. But once one has grasped the key, every puzzle is unlocked most easily.

The present war is a last ditch fight of feudalism and international banksterism against freedom for the people's self-government. Bear this in mind and you have the whole picture. The landed aristocracy has joined hands with the Jewish Cahilla and both are waging war upon the world's liberty by drafting the subject peoples to fight against each other. Both are exploiters and parasites, both are treacherous and murderous. The Jewish Cahilla, or conspirators for world dominion by Zion, figure that finally they can also extirpate the Gentile aristocracy, the feudal landlords in Germany, England and the large landholders, insurance companies, etc, in the U. S. A. and elsewhere if they can get the German feudalists to battle the English feuders. It's an all dried and cut affair only the suckers refuse to realize it.

Phony Election

On November 11, 1940, I repeated again my previous statements in THE BROOM that Willkie had been groomed by the Cahilla to duplicate Roosevelt's mission as stooge for the outfit so that the people be prevented from having a clear cut expression on the war, had Sen. Taft been nominated G.O.P. standard bearer. I foretold that Thomas Dewey also was a Jewish stooge and again my reports are proven correct with the endorsement by Dewey of the lend-lease-give-away bill at a Lincoln dinner in Washington.

That the New Deal is a Jew Deal is plain now even to the dumbest; all one has to do is count the Jews in federal key positions. Start with Frankfurter, to Morgenthau, Sol Bloom and down the line. But few realize that Hitler is just as much a tool of the Cahilla as is Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill. The plan behind the whole war massacre is to get the Gentiles to murder each other, to deflect industry and agriculture from civilized progress and turn the energies of the Gentile world into destructive channels, mortgaging their possessions to the international banksters in tremendous "loans" to massacre nation after nation. After the massacre and the havoc, when the mortgages are called in the Jews would own the world. That is why "Hitler must not win" so that Roosevelt may dominate the "peace arrangements."

Hitler, like all other shortsighted militarists and feudalists, was financed by the munition banksters to start the ball rolling. He is their bogey man. He ate the bait and swallowed it line, hook and sinker. He certainly plays his part properly as outlined by the Cahilla. Stalin is another of their puppets. If Stalin were to stop Hitler now from invading Bulgaria there would be no need of America deflecting its energies from peaceful progress to destructive industries of war armaments. Industry in America must be destroyed by commandeering the metals for warfare and "regulating" free enterprise the way radio is licensed and controlled by the Jew Deal.

So you will notice the President has to get dictatorial powers to "help England" for then the Cahilla will strangle all free enterprise in America and reduce us all to peonage and finally order us to murder fellow Gentiles.

There is a terrible awakening in store and a reckoning.

American Jews Warned

In the September, 1940, issue of OPINION, edited by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, is an article by John Haynes Holmes, entitled "Should Jews be Pacifists?" Holmes wrote:

"And now the Jews are actually clamoring for war again, under the insane delusion that this war can bring any different or better results than the last war! If the Jews know what is good for them, to say nothing of what is good for Europe and the world, they will do everything in their power to stop this war, and especially to keep America out of it. If this war goes on, with Jews doing their part to foment it and feed it and idealize it, Europe will be plunged a decade hence into a horror of anti-Semitism which will make Hitler's pogroms look like a Sunday School kindergarten. If America gets into this war and is fooled again, our wealth wasted and the lives of our boys thrown away the second time for no result save that of utterly wrecking our civilization and ending democracy forever, then a wave of anti-Semitism, already started in this country, will sweep the land with horror. Disillusioned and desperate Americans are in no way different from disillusioned and desperate Germans. They will seek a scapegoat for their own folly just as quickly and infallibly. I can hear now the cries which will be lifted a decade hence, if we go into this war today: 'The Jews did it! THEY took us into the war because they hated Hitler. THEY own the newspapers. THEY run the movies, THEY control the banks. The Jews did it. Down with the Jews!' "

Ruining San Diego's Agriculture

RADIO TALK over KGB (dial 1330)

Government of the people, for the people and by the people is a very precious possession which citizens of San Diego refuse to give up so easily for the whim of our city hall burocrats. The growers of flowers, orchards and truck gardens have signed a petition to the city council requesting an amendment to the city charter to be placed on the ballot at the coming election separating the revenues of the city owned water system from the general tax funds. Whether the council will place such an amendment on the ballot depends in large measure on your own action. If you do not arouse yourself to the realization that the water system is being systematically robbed of its revenues to pay pensions for the police and fire department, to build new city jails with ballrooms for the police and to furnish a pork barrel for the politicians to squander as they please when it suits their fancy, naturally the council will keep on doing it. It is high time that you woke up and realized that your water bill is not for water only but for every other political item on the calendar, so that it does not show in your taxes and you imagine that the politicians are holding taxes down.

When the milkman puts water in your milk that is not news, but when the firemen milk the water system for their pension fund, that ought to be bad enough news for you to get up on your hind legs and put a stop to it by writing to the city councilmen in your district that you demand a separate accounting and special fund for the water system that shall not be milked for other purposes. Write your letter, call up your councilman, you have only a week to do it in if that amendment is to be placed on the ballot.

Because the city council is spending water funds on political items, naturally, everytime when an improvement in the water system is to be made they either do not make it or else they say they have no money and must have another bond issue. Make it the rule: no more bond issues for the water system till the water department is kept separate from the general tax fund and is not milked for the general fund.

On January 20, City Manager Coper made a report to the city council advising that some of the water mains in outlying districts cannot carry enough water to supply the agricultural as well as household needs during peak demands. I quote from his report so he won't be able to call me a liar again, by inference, as they have been doing it at City hall since I started to show them up.

"In view of prospective lack of capacity in distribution mains, it is respectfully suggested that consideration be given to appropriate legislative action to restrict or diminish the use of water for irrigation uses at the 8c rate. This may be done by eliminating at the expiration date the annual contracts provided by Rule IX. Also it may be advisable to limit the use of water on golf courses to night hours, say from 10 pm to 6 am. This restriction in hours would take this service off of the hours of peak demands for other uses. This conditional use may also be accompanied by a rate change".

That means to say that the City Manager suggests respectfully that existing water contracts be terminated for those who have made an investment in growing fruit trees when the previous city councils assured them water rates in the city will be lowered, but never raised because of increased consumption and water development. The Gas company lowered its rates, but the City Manager suggests a change in rates to restrict the use of water. What does Cooper care whether your orchards will dry out, whether your investments will be lost, whether you will lose your homes when you cannot make a living as you have done for the past years in place of going on the WPA or the County Welfare.

That is why I say, wake up! Encinitas has a 3c water rate La Mesa charges only 6c, but San Diego robs the water department for political junkets and then the city manager suggests that the orchards and flower and truck gardens be turned back to sage brush. What surprised me most in my talks with city hall officials is the unconcerned manner with which some are willing to turn orchards and gardens back to sagebrush.

Fletcher's Nefarious Activities

(Radio Talk, K. G. B. Wednesday 7:15 pm, Feb. 12, '41)

One must not imagine that I am blind to the truth. I know it only too well. I know both sides of the story, but I also know another side, the most important one: I know that here in America we must not side with either labor exploiters from above, nor with labor exploiters from below. Between the contract boss and the union boss, we must choose neither but chuck them both overboard to produce real American conditions of equality of opportunities and rights. This is the reason why I am calling attention to another nefarious activity of our State Senator, the Honorable Ed Fletcher.

Did you know that Ed Fletcher introduced a "Little Wagner Act" in the state senate? In section 2 of his act the Honorable Senator says that he intends "to insure just and fair treatment to all parties to any industrial dispute" but when he enumerates further down in that section the objects of the Little Wagner Act he says that he intends: "First: To safeguard the rights of the public . . . Second: To prevent losses to labor . . ." but he fails to equally provide for the rights of employers in the dispute.

This is the weakness of the federal Wagner act and Fletcher who ought to know that "just and fair treatment to all parties to any industrial dispute" includes the employer as well, follows the bad example of class hatred and outlaws the employers. He simply forgets to include them and their rights together with the hired hands and the consuming public. So it must from now on become a crime in the state of California to be an employer of people who otherwise could not earn a living by employing themselves.

Democracy in Congress

(Radio Talk over KGB, Feb. 12, 1941)

Some people imagine that congressmen are free to vote their own convictions without high pressure. But Paul Mallon reveals the conditions in the national legislature to be quite different. Speaking of the manner in which the Lease-lend bill was passed by congress Mallon reports in his syndicated column: "A picture few observers will soon forget revealed Speaker Rayburn backing Rep. Voorhis of California into a corner wielding his forefinger like a sword point because Voorhis had dared to offer an amendment limiting the President's powers to one year. Rayburn used not only his finger but both feet on his Democrats to keep them in line. He had them so frightened, many declined to appear in some of the laast minute voting on Republican amendments, but chose refuge in the cloakroom. It was fairly well understood in the house that any Democrat who voted for amendments was a marked man."

"TO WORSHIP GOD"

There is no better way of bringing about real freedom in America than to take the President at his word when he announced that America is arming to defend the four basic rights of humanity, "everywhere in the world".

Allright — let's have it!

Today I am taking the right to worship God "accordance to one's conscience" as the starting point, for democracy everywhere in the world. Of course, I assume that President Roosevelt means that the U. S. A. is in the world he is talking about.

There is no secret about the fact that the last congress has passd a law which denies the right of American citizens to worship God in the U. S. A. according to their conscience. There are a number of Americans serving time in federal prison camps today because they adhere to the Gospel of Jesus Christ and refused to register under the selective service act for military service. It is the nature of a tyrant that he be a hypocrit, a liar and a cheat. If Roosevelt is none of these he certainly will see to it that those who are Christians in deed as well as in mouthings, are not kept in prison as heroes and martyrs of that fredom which he proposes to introduce everywhere else in the world, by armed force. He should start right here in the federal prison camps and put a medal on the young men who preferred jail to abandoning their religious rights. They are the real Americans, they are the real he-men, they are the true Christians, they are the first citizens of the land.

An oath is a contract between the contracting parties. When Uncle Sam tells you to raise your right hand and swear allegiance to the U. S. A. its constitution and its laws and the defend them against all enemies, foreign and domestic, it includes the president and the congress the moment they artificially make criminals and felons out of those who believe that America too is in the world where religious freedom is to be defended under the American flag.

Defends Landlords

Editor, The Broom:

The workers are now in a jitter about high rents. First it was more wages, they got that, then it was shorter hours, they got that, they picket every one who does not comply with their demands, the food stores and all manufacturers and the law is, apparently, helpless. What would the workers do without our independent men who can give hundreds and thousands of them employment. The worker has made the mistake of his life in joining the Union, he has to sit down with his nose in the air begging for a job just as the indigent begs from Uncle Sam.

We have fine men amongst our workers, you know it, I know it but when his Union says "Take that stick with the placard on top and picket such and such and so and so for a dollar a day or I'll fine you twenty dollars" he must pocket his pride and obey the rules for he is now a slave.

The workers are trying to bring the independent man down to the Union level of himself and when, he can, accomplish this what will become of the blind, crippled and helpless when he robs the country of the taxes needed to support them. The worker nowadays instead of saving the fine wage he gets to look out for his old age, buys a car, the upkeep of which would have been paying on a home. The liquor store, gambling dens and horse races flourish under his mismanagement and yet he blames the man who has saved his wage and is now in the position to give him a job. This preparation for war is filling the working man's pocket so why not be just and allow the landlords a little share also.

Firemen Fire City Council

(Radio Talk, K. G. B. Wednesday 7:15 pm, Feb. 12, '41)

This idea of the class war against employers is being carried to extremes in another fashion at present in San Diego. The Fire Fighters Association, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has devised a new method to boss its employers. In San Diego we have enacted a city charter which outlines the method of city government by an elected city council and mayor who appoint the city manager who in turn appoints the chief of the fire department and through the civil service system hires whatever firemen we need and sets their salaries with approval of the council. The city council, then, in the last analysis, is the employer of the fire department. The civil service commission keeps tab on the cost of living to regulate the wage scale and keep it on an even keel. But the firemen have decided to become an independent body and fire their employers in a novel scheme, by amending the charter. They figure that enough members of Organized Labor live in San Diego to enable them to put one over on the large mass of gullible taxpayers by writing into the charter of the city a new scale of wages, before the taxpayers have a chance to examine this new move and realize what they are doing. So the firemen in San Diego have been passing around petitions asking you to sign to give them a six days week and a base pay. They did not tell you that I went before the city council and secured the six days week for the firemen where they had failed to get it for themselves during the last three years. They did not tell you that the civil service commission had set a base pay schedule for them years ago so that anytime the cost of living goes up all the firemen have to do is appear before the commission with their statistics, prove their point and automatically their wages are increased according to law.

Witnesses Wanted

You must not imagine that I am opposed to good wages or hate firemen on sight. I am one of those Americans who believe that faith in right makes might, but that might itself does not make right. When I asked the city council to give the firemen their six day week I did it because I believe the firemen are entitled to it. But when they refuse to go to the civil service commission for an increase in pay, but circulate petitions under false pretenses that the city council did not give them the six day week and that they have no base pay schedule; then, I realize that the firemen are taking us taxpayers for a ride by fraud and misrepresentation. This is what firemen are getting today: Fourth Class Fireman gets $156 a month, you signed their petition for $170. Did they tell you that you were giving them that raise? First Class Fireman gets today $185, you signed their petition for $200; the Chief gets $375, you signed his petition for $450. Do you realize that is more money than the county assessor gets or the county supervisor, and besides that they get pensions at half pay after 20 years service.

Now if the firemen would have honestly come out and said that they were already given the six day week by the council and that they already have a base pay and the civil service commission is the proper body to raise it in conformity with cost of living and with the scale which all other city employees get, but they want you to give them this additional 30% increase in pay, then, of course, that is your privilege, to give it to them. But when I listened to their misrepresentations and saw people sign under false impressions I decided to go to court and ask for an injunction against the city clerk to prevent him from placing the amendments on the ballot. I need witnesses who will come forward voluntarily and testify in court that they were not told the truth when they signed the petition. If you want to protect your rights write or phone me. Address THE BROOM, East San Diego.

Government Of, For and By the People

(Radio Talk over KGB, Feb. 12, 1941)

All over the United States Americans are celebrating Lincoln Day in memory of the Great Emancipator. His last lines of the Gettysburg address keep on ringing as true today as they did in his day: " . . . . that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth." Such government cannot be had except by eternal vigilance and the daring of that watchful minority within the nation who dedicates itself to perpetuate good and free government in spite of the pressure groups within the nation itself who attempt to highpressure the mass of the people into surrendering the traditions, the ideals and the practices of American self-government.

Following the principles of good government I filed an action in the superior court of San Diego yesterday against the City of San Diego, the City Clerk and the City Attorney and Judge Turrentine signed an order to show cause why these officials should not be restrained from placing the petition of the firemen on the ballot for Charter Amendments to raise their pay 30% above what they are getting at present, figured on a day basis. The matter comes up next Monday morning at 10 o'clock for argument. I am acting as my own attorney and have so far found two corroborating witnesses who signed affidavits to the effect that signatures were obtained by false statements and misrepresentation of the contents of the petition. Dr. Harvey Stallard and Roy O. Akers, both are testifying that they were not told that the petition proposes to raise the wages of the firemen 30%, but were only told that it reduces the hours of work from 84 to 72 hours per week.

Good government cannot be had unless we see to it that it is honestly administered. I am only one man who stands up for it; alone I can do very little. It is your duty as well as mine to see to it that our city affairs are honestly administered. It will take many more witnesses to prove in court that the petitions were fraudulently circulated. If you are one of those who signed under the impression that it merely shortened the hours of work but did not raise the pay in addition, you will do a service to yourself and to your city by contacting me and offering to testify to that effect in court when the case comes up.

I am not opposed to the six day work week in place of seven days, in fact I am the fellow who urged the council to grant it, which the council did, so that there is no need of an election to give it to the firemen. But I am strongly opposed to the idea that the Civil Service Commission and the City council be ignored by the people in the matter of wage increases. They know how much money there is in the treasury and who deserves an increase in wages better than you and I know it; for all that money has to be collected from us in higher taxes. The Civil Service Commission has called a meeting of city employees for tomorrow night at the Civic Center where this very matter of wage increases will be openly discussed. That is the appropriate time for asking for an increase and proving the justice of such demand, but not by asking people to sign a petition for a reduction of hours, when that petition also contains a raise in wages of which the signers are not being informed by the circulators.

More Policewomen Needed

(Radio Talk over KGB, Feb. 12, 1941)

At the last council meeting a letter from Mrs. Opal A. Karonis, of 4045 Forty-second street, East San Diego, was read in which she says that she is the mother of a young girl and is worried about the poor police protection and slipshod supervision of the dine and dance places in San Diego because of lack of policewomen . Of course the city council ditched her letter, as usual. But the Appellate Court handed down a decision in favor of Policewomen Michels and Childress who had been fired by the council unlawfully, ordering the council to pay them their back salary. So far the council persists in disobeying the court order and is neglecting the supervision of the night life.

WHERE IS THE POLICE ?

The law says that saloons, even when called by some other name, must be so constructed that the public on the sidewalks may be able to look inside through the windows and see what's going on. The idea is that selling liquors and getting people drunk is not a right, but a privilege. Those who abuse the privilege of making money from other people's folly, are to loose their license. Now if the Chief of Police does not know it, if the vice squad cannot find it, we will direct them in person, if needs be, to that saloon known as the TROPIC at 1040 Third avenue and ask them to look through the tight curtained, matted window and the screened off door. The place, like all saloons at present, is kept so dark inside, that one could not see what's going on from the sidewalk anyway. Why this violation of the law?

New Magnetic Alloy Can Hold More Magnetism Than Any Other Material

Vicalloy, new magnetic alloy developed at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, can hold more permanent magnetism than any other commercial material. The tiny semicircular magnet of vicalloy shown in this picture is holding up two iron bars. The new material takes its name from the initial letters of its three components: vanadium, iron, and cobalt. It is composed of from 6 to 16 per cent vanadium, 30 to 52 per cent iron, and 36 to 62 per cent cobalt. It is heat treated to develop its magnetic properties, and can be drawn or rolled.

Andrew Carnegie's "Union Now"

Editor, The Broom:

I think the U. S. has had enough trouble with Britain that some of us are entitled to be anti-British on purely American principles.

Carnegie, Not American Citizen

As long as 1898 economic subjugation was planned for us by a Britisher, who was a citzen of the U. S. at least in name. He was a man, who had amassed a fortune of many millions of dollars, here, and whom we were taught to respect. Had he not endowed public libraries in almost every city and town in the U. S.? In 1893 Andrew Carnegie wrote the last chapter of his book, "Triumphant Democracy". This chapter is entitled "A Look Ahead", and is found in the Tacoma library in the North American Review, 1893, Vol. 156, page 685. Following are a few quotations taken at random from the article!

"I crave permission to adduce some consideration in support of my belief that the future is certainly to see a reunion of the separated parts (Britain and U. S.) and once again a common citizenship . . . "

Market for British Factories

"An Anglo-American reunion brings free entry here of all British products as a matter of course. The richest market in the world is opened to Britain, free of all duty, by a stroke of the pen. No tax can be laid upon products of any part of the Union, even for revenue, although under free trade such taxes still exist. What would not trade with the republic "duty free" mean to the linen, woolen, iron and steel industries of Scotland, to the tin plate manufacturers of Wales, to the woolen, cotton, coal, iron, cutlery, and steel industries of England? It would mean prosperity to every industry in the United Kingdom . . . to the whole Pacific coast Britain is so much nearer in cost as to give her complete command of the market. In the event of reunion the American manufacturer would supply the interior of the country, but the great populations skirting the Atlantic seaboard and the Pacific coast would receive their manufactured articles chiefly from Great Britain . . . products of continental nations, which now compete so seriously with Britain, would be almost excluded, even by a tariff strictly for revenue. It is not going too far to say that every kind of property in the sceptered Isle and every business interest would be permanently doubled in value by reunion. I do not shut my eyes to the fact that reunion, bringing free entrance of British products, would cause serious disturbance to many manufacturing interests near the Atlantic coast . . . "

U. S. to Pay British Debt Owed to Jewish Bankers

"Reunion will further benefit the United Kingdom in regard to debt and taxation. The national debt, per capita, of the U. S. amounts to $14, that of Britain $88 and that of Canada to $48. When the union is restored it will be upon the basis of uniting also the national debts as they stand, and making all a common obligation of the union, so that the United Kingdom would be relieved at once of the greater portion of its national debt, and at least half of its present heavy taxation."

British Conquest of U. S.

The conquering Briton has conquered more and more easily as he has had behind him more and more of a record of achievements of his race. In the U. S. the reunion idea would be hailed with enthusiasm . . . It would sweep the country. No party would oppose, each would try to excel the other in approval. Let men say what they will, therefore, I say that as surely as the sun in the heavens once shone upon Britain and America united, so surely it is, one morning to rise, shine upon and greet again the "Reunited States", "The British American Union".

According to Carnegie the only advantage the American would get out of this reunion was, this, "Were the Briton and American again one the American would find England the best summer home within his reach." Where the American would get the money to support a summer home in England, Mr. Carnegie doesn't say. We would be like the people of India, Ireland and the rest of the United Kingdom, too busy supporting the British aristocracy to even think of summer homes.

Carnegie Endowment for "Union" Produces Treasonable Results

Some of you may say, "Why bring this up, it's only an old man's dream?" Well this is why. He left his fortune in the Carnegie corporation and that institution has worked continuously since through our schools, libraries, churches and other channels to fulfill those dreams, and they are just at the point of being realized. As Mr. Carnegie foretold the Democrats and Republicans are trying to excel each other in approval of everything British.

Why should the U. S. with 132 million people and a grand big country insist on tying themselves, like a tail on a kite, to an empire that has reached the end of a long career of bloody domination of others and is now fast falling into the destruction that always awaits such empires?

CROWDS BOO WILLKIE

By Genevieve Feely de Aryan

I was very fortunate in being able to be present at the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles Monday evening, February 10th, when former Senator Rush Holt, addressed the mass meeting called by the "Defend America First" Committee.

Last Thursday morning the telephone rang and a lady's voice asked me if I could give her the address of Senator Rush Holt in Los Angeles whom she had heard Mr. de Aryan say the night before in his radio talk, expected to speak in the Philharmonic Auditorium. I told her I did not know where he was stopping, but expressed my desire to go up and hear him—she said she wanted to go too—so the upshot of it was that we made a date to drive up to Los Angeles and hear him.

We had a most enjoyable visit all the way up and were some of the very first to arrive at the auditorium, so we had the choice of front seats and could see and get the feel of the whole performance. It was a very well behaved audience, no heckling of any kind, unusual in public meetings of today. However there was a loud and prolonged burst of boos at the mere mention of the name of Wendell Willkie.

The well-known Los Angeles Attorney, Joseph Scott, was the first speaker who classified himself as just a buck private, and exprssed his stand for the old time democracy and flayed Dorothy Thompson for criticising the Irish attitude in this present crisis; he also said that "Eleanor" was sure a slicker.

Mr. Holt was very well received and did not mince any words in saying that the U. S. should have no part in the present conflict and stressed the inconsistency of going over to Europe to fight a war in order to prevent war. He also contrasted the ballyhoo that accompanied the declaration of the last war with the manner in which the congressmen marched out of the house, chins on their chests, without scarcely a word being spoken, after they had passed this lease-lend bill. He said that this was a war of nerves—that Stalin had a real bad case of nerves, because every nite since the war began Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt had been trying to get into bed with him. He also stressed the fact that it is now considered un-American to be pro-American.

I should judge there were at least three thousand persons present—that is inside and outside of the auditorium, as loudspeakers had been placed on the outside of the building.

—o—

And now have I finished a work which neither the wrath of Jove, nor fire, nor steel, nor all-consuming time can destroy. Welcome the day which can destroy only my physical man in ending my uncertain life. In my better part I shall be raised to immortality above the lofty stars, and my name shall never die.—Ovid.

Others May Be "Slackers", We Are "Challengers"

Clark Cornell,30 ;Boyd Cornell, 24

Lately, the effort to convince us of the error of our ways by the public charge that we are "slackers" seems to be on the increase. Before we finish with this comment we'll have some more to say about slacker, but first, let's lead up to it:

Almost within the memory of men now living, it was legal and constitutional, respectable and pious to traffic in slaves; to buy little Negro boys and girls from the man who held title deed to that family. In other words, being property, Negroes, singly, or in family groups were gypoed around just as men today do with barnyard stock. The constitution and the statutes obligated officers of the law to maintain with the force of all of the side-arms and artillery at their command, the property rights of the bill of sale on human beings who, because of the color of their skin, were held to lack the dignity and the rights of human persons, and declared to be but domestic animals; and as such, were subject to the commerce and desires of those who had the money with which to compete in their trade.

Gradually, the humane promptings of more and more people had been coming to challenge that idea. the easiest way to react to the challenge of this new consciousness, was not to reason and discuss it on its merits, but to 'smear" it with offensive odium such as "nigger lovers", "black abolitionists", etc. This kept people who were sensitive to offensive epithets regimented against a fair consideration of the matter and they could quickly be made into a furious mob.

The first most conspicuous challengers of that hoary-headed lie were young people such as Elijah Lovejoy, and Lloyd Garrison and Wendell Phillips and Harriet Beecher and her twelve brothers and sisters, best known among whom was Henry Ward Beecher who, upon leaving college, took the personal risks incident to editing an anti-slavery paper.

As was demonstrated in the struggle against slavery, the challengers were rebels of the old order. They not only had their reputations "smeared" as "nigger lovers" and "black abolitionists" but often their property was destroyed and their lives threatened and sometimes forfeited.

It can easily be seen that it took unusual qualities of character to face that kind of music. There was Dr. Lyman Beecher's family of 13 sons and daughters, well schooled young people of good address, who, had they "prostituted" their talents to getting easy and cheap place and social prestige, and commercial "respectability", by being satisfied to accept well paid clerical or professional position and stultifying their consciousness of the great wrongs of chattel slavery, they could have saved themselves the social stigma and smear of the struggle.

Does the foregoing prepare the way for us two Cornell brothers to say that those who are attempting to bring us into the regimented line of another instance of America being a handy cat's paw for the British Empire, by smearing us with the cheap odium of the "slacker" brand, are not likely to gain their point. The fact is, we are open-and-above-board opponents, rebels of this entire foreign policy of which conscription is the spear head. If That foreign policy is American we are not American.

The "slacker" is an entirely different sort of fellow. He believes or pretends to believe in the Roosevelt-Willkie foreign policy but he is giving it slack or half-hearted support. The "slacker" is the fellow who voted for one or the other of the proponents of that policy but who grudgingly, and with many squalks, pays the taxes incident to it. The "slacker" is the fellow who supports the policy with his mouth and his vote, but is so stupid he cannot see that, instead of giving that kind of cheap support, he should be assigning his property and his labor for the rest of his years to the tax collector.

* * *

In 1933, Dr. Einstein wrote:

"The course of events in the last few years has once more shown us how little we are justified in leaving the struggle against the war spirit to the governments. . . .

"In my opinion, the best method in this case is the violent ane—conscientious objection which must be aided by an organization for giving moral and material support to the courageous conscientious objectors in each country . . . it is an illegal struggle, but a struggle for real rights of the people against governments which have demanded criminal acts of their citizens."

America in Danger

By Chas. B. Hudson

OMAHA, Nebr.—It is vital to Satan's plan that USA be sucked into this war in Europe-Asia-Africa. How significant that the press barely mentions fact that Natl. Bd. of Management of the D. A. R.—representing 155,000 real Americans—in session at Washingto, D. C., 1-31--41, after considering H. R. 1776, adopted a resolution urging members of Congress "to reserve to themselves the powers and responsibilities entrusted to them". And why doesn't press give space to this N E W S ? Fearless patriot, Repr. Clare E. Hoffman, of Michigan, in Appendix of CONGRESSIONAL RECORD 1-30-41, quoted statement before the House Foreign Affairs Com. (headed by Jew, Bloom), in which Gerald L. K. Smith, Natl, Chmn. of Committee of One Million, gave 20 reasons for opposing H. R. 1776. Smith presented petitions with 2,000,000,000 signers, representing 5,000,000 Americans in 46 States. Wish entire statement available in pamphlet form so could be passed to you. It climaxes with: "We submit that this bill is improperly named; is filled with improper motives; is un-American, un-democratic; and will, if passed, lead us definitely into war."

Senator Capper of Kansas inserts many letters in 1-31-41 CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, stating he is getting about 2,000 a week, about 95% in opposition to that dictatorship bill, not counting what he is getting in way of form letters, petitions, and similar organized efforts against the measure. It seems all these facts are N E W S !

Nor have I seen played up in press that the AMERICAN COALITION (representing over 100 patriotic organizations), at its annual meeting in Washington, D. C. 1-27-41, claiming that H. R. 1776 is un-Constitutional and confers dictatorial powers on Pres. of USA, resolved: "That the American Coalition condemns any legislative or executive action which under the plea of combatting totalitarianism abroad creates totalitarianism at home." On 1-24-41, the Bd. of Directors of Chamber of Commerce, representing 700,000 members, likewise expressed their deep-seated conviction that "our first obligation is to preserve and defend this country and its form of government", warning against that Lend-Lease Bill. Why aren't such expressions by real Americans given splash publicity????

We Want NO WAR

Not one of the Dictators can give Life to the poor cratures they killed wantomly.

"Heil Hitler" did not save the German dead.

"Viva il duce" did not save the Italians.

All the British armada on sea and air did not protect the lives of dead Britons.

Stalin killed his own people by the millions.

Roosevelt and Congress cannot give Life to the dead nor health to the crippled.

Motorists Allowed Certain Deductions On Income Returns

With income tax time just around the corner, the Automobile Club of Southern California has furnished the following information regarding certain deductions which can be made for sums paid out or losses sustained in connection with ownership and operation of automobiles. Substantially the same deductions are permitted under both federal income tax law and the California personal income tax law. Federal tax returns must be made by March 15 and State returns by April 15.

Deductible items summarized by legal experts of the Club include:

All sums paid during the calendar year as registration fees, vehicle license fees, personal property taxes, and municipal taxes.

Interest on money borrowed for the purchase of an automobile.

The amount of financing charges on automobile purchased which covers the interest on the loan, when specifically set forth in the contract, but not the amount covering the premium on insurance to protect the finance company's interest.

Automobile insurance on cars used for business purposes.

Uncompensated losses sustained by reason of damage to automobiles used for business or pleasure.

Damages paid for injuries to persons or for destruction of property, provided the automobile was being used for business at the time of the accident, provided loss is born by taxpayer.

Loss sustained when a car used for business is sold outright at a price less than its depreciated value. (Loss sustained where an automobile used for business is traded in for a new car cannot be deducted, but loss can be considered as part of the cost when computing the depreciation for the ensuing year.)

Where a purchaser of an automobile takes delivery out of state for use in this state even though it is purchased from a retailer in this state, or where the purchaser buys the car from a retailer outside the state and brings the car into California for use, the California Use Tax imposes a tax upon the consumer and whatever tax is paid by the consumer under this act is deductible.

All operating and maintenance expenses, including costs of gasoline, depreciation, on automobiles used wholly for business, or a pro rata share of such expenses, representing business use where a passenger car is used for pleasure and business. Depreciation usually is figured at 20 per cent per annum. Where an employee receives an allowance or mileage from the employer for automobile operation, unless such allowance is declared as part of income no claim can be made by the employee for deduction on acount of operating expenses.

Non-deductible items include California and federal gasoline tax and the federal taxes on lubricating oil, tires, tubes, accessories, new cars and trucks. A federal ruling is that these taxes are imposed upon the manufacturer or distributor, not upon the consumer.

No deduction can be made for the amount paid for an automobile used for either business or pleasure, this being a capital expenditure and subject to claim for depreciation where the automobile is used for business.

NEWLY INSTALLED PHONE AIDS ROBBERS' CAPTURE

It wasn't long before the telephone proved its worth in the home of Mrs. Ann Van Denack and Miss Erdine Perry of Casco, Wis. Newly installed, it proved instrumental in the capture of burglars recently. Awakened by a noise at one o'clock in the morning, Mrs. Van Denack and Miss Perry, whose living quarters are located above a store, were certain that an attempt at burglary was being made in the premises below. They telephoned the local police, who responded quickly, surrounded the store, and arrested the burglars.

CALL FOR NUDIST COLONY HAD IT ALMOST RIGHT

It was not a misnomer, after all, when one of the long distance telephone operators at Duluth recently received a call for a "nudist colony" at Grand Marais, Minn. The operator wondered if the calling party was joking, but she accepted and passed the call in the usual manner. The call went through without delay, but it turned out that the calling party wanted "Bear Skin Lodge," which is on a rural line out of the Grand Marais exchange.

FIRST PHONE DIRECTORY WAS SMALL, BUT BIG NEWS

New Haven, Conn., is justly proud of the fact that the first commercial telephone switchboard and the first telephone directory in the world both belong to that city. It was in January of 1878 when the first commercial switchboard was placed in service, and within a month the first telephone directory was issued.

Of course, the original directory was only a single sheet and measured but a few inches. Framed and hung on the wall of the business office of the telephone company in New Haven is a huge photographic enlargement of this directory. The reproduction measures several feet. Not long ago, a subscriber, noticing the enlargement, asked what it was. When told it was a reproduction of the first telephone directory ever issued, she remarked, "My! they certainly issued big directories in those days."

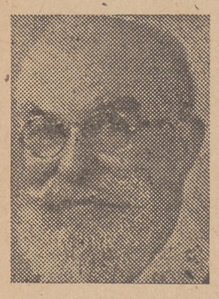
INTROSPECTION

The dictionaries say that "introspection" means to look within, as to introspect a house—to look it over from within. Another meaning is SELF-EXAMINATION. It is this second meaning that we are particularly interested in.



Dr. Geo. Starr White

"Know Thyself" used to be a head-line of many advertisements. The advertisements were for some printed matter (often called a book) which the advertiser claimed would help the reader to know him or her self.

HUMANS, altho they belong to the "animal kingdom", differ from all other animals in that they think they THINK, while looking down on other animals, because the HUMAN thinks he is the only animal that THINKS. Be that as it may, we can all honestly think that the HUMAN is the only animal that seeks to practice SELF-EXAMINATION—seeks to know himself.

I must apparently digress to make a mental picture of just how this sort of mental-gymnastics actually operates.

In 1882, my preceptor (teacher in the practice of medicine) sent me to New York City to buy the very best microscope to be had, so I could be "up-to-the-minute" in my medical studies. I could hardly wait to "intro-spect" every insect and "everything" under the "magic revealer"—the microscopic lense.

I soon discovered that one needed special training to know how to prepare the specimen for mounting for microscopic inspection and deep study. To get this special knowledge, I was sent to New York City to receive instruction by the best teacher to be had in this line of work. After I had acquired this specialized knowledge, my preceptor and I set out to mount and examine not only parts from sores and body excretions, but living as well as dead insects and parts of frogs and what they lived on.

Very soon we learned that we could not agree on our findings. What appeared to me to be thus and so, appeared to my preceptor to be different. Then we found students and teachers of microscopic knowledge and to our surprise their "findings" were rarely the same—each had a different conception of what he saw under the microscopic lense.

To help clarify this "confusion in the craft", those of us who could began to practice drawing in a "laboratory book" what we saw under the lense. Soon we became quite expert in this method of showing others just what our individual eyes saw and our minds interpreted. The result was astonishing to my preceptor and his confreres. We began to realize that no two pair of eyes interpreted the vision exactly alike. We also observed that our mental interpretation of what we visioned was seldom the same.

Later on I devised a "projector" that projected the microscopic picture on a white screen over six feet square. Then it was that we all realized that as we enlarged the image thru the lense, we also found new worlds to explore.

'Hence, to interpret our own findings of our own mental condition is more likely to be a wrong than a correct finding. The more we introspect the more perplext we become and trouble pyramids trouble.

The more our troubles are magnified the more ramifications we also find—and so on, end without end.

CONCLUSION: Self-examination— INTROSPECTION—is a dangerous pastime or "study". It is the starter of endless "cults" and "religions". Nearly all minds that are ill at ease—DIS-eased, try to interpret their mental "findings". Such "self-examination" magnifies the weak points in the mental anatomy and clouds the "points" that are "normal". After carefully examining over a thousand inmates of institutions for "mental patients" and taking their histories, I found that each and every one traced their "findings" to the time they were awakened to the impulse to INTROSPECT. From that time on the victims grew worse and worse, until they lost control of the "mental machine".

This morning, among my patients was a school-teacher. She said she had a "little narrative" that would illustrate our U S A of TODAY. Here it is: A "painters' gang" is painting the school building she teaches in. During recess the "gang" comes into the rooms to paint. As there seemed to be much lost by such changes, the teacher told the "Boss Painter" that she could arrange the recesses so as to not hinder them so much. The Boss replied: "Never mind, Miss, We Putter Around anyway".

Dishing Out the News

My dear de Aryan:

I have your letter of January 28th and perchance howbeit, I perceive that you are a very wicked man because you will not accept the words of the Old Testament as gospel truth. Any priest, preacher or rabbi will attest your wickedness because you do not believe. The sin of not believing the word of God is a terrible sin and because of your wickedness I am going to fix it with the Lord so that one of these days when you are riding on an ass, or acting the part of one, a lion will pounce upon you and destroy you.

Having a lion take care of undesirables was a frequent occurrence in Bible times.

I have quoted the Bible to you. You dismiss this proof "as what the other fellow said". In the next breath you prove the virgin birth because the Bible says so. Now, Mr. Consistency, your proof is worthless because it is just "what the other fellow said". Who gave you the authority to use the Bible to prove your statements while denying me the same privilege? Furthermore, your explanation of the birth of Jesus, is just about as bunky as anything in the Bible.

You say, "God is the source of Intelligence", "God is the source of Life Eternal". Did you just make this up yourself or did someone tell you so? If this God you talk about is your own invention, have you a patent or a copyright on him or is he a her? I don't believe that you are smart enough to invent a God but if you are you must have within you, intelligence which has not as yet appeared on the surface.

No, you must have gotten the dope from the outside. Will you be kind enough to give me the name and address of your God-manufacturer? Stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed.

Also please advise me about this fellow Gabri-Eli. Was he a man and was he the father of Jesus? What was his nationality? At the time of conception, "Was you there, Sharley?"

I am sure that every Rabbi and every Catholic priest in San Diego will inform you that every word of the Old Testament is true. Remember, too, that the Old Testament is just as much a part of the Bible as the New. In fact, the Bible is more than 75 per cent Old Testament.

Sincerely, FRANK C. HUGHES,
Glendive, Montana.

EVANGELION MEANS: GOOD NEWS

My dear Hughes:

There is more system to my folly than you seem to realize at first glance. You wrote a book: HELL and AMEN, ridiculing the superstitions and follies of the various orthodox denominations, but being an agnostic, one who admits his ignorance in matters esoteric and metaphysic, you assumed knowledge of the subject matter you admit your ignorance in and went so far astray from your own agnosticism, (or is it the nature of agnostics to prove that they are not only ignorant, but irresponsible, to boot!?), that you used lascivious language in speaking of the birth of our Savior, Jesus of Nazareth.

Replying to the historic side of the birth I gave you the key to the scriptures, if you are interested to know historic facts and explained how marvelously the writers of the gospels presented a subject which lascivious minds would treat as swine treat pearls, proverbially. You did not like it when I compared you to a fool who denies God; you did not like it when I insulted the poor donkey by comparing your ignorance to that of an ass, but I certainly have to call attention to the pearls of the Christ's birth and the swinish interpretation you put on it.

As far as the Gospels are concerned or any other book or bible, they are "news" papers to me or books, inspired by all sorts of spirits. So I wisely take my choice when wading through the mass of holy thought and unholy filth, just as I do with your HELL and AMEN. Not all of it swinish, some is very good.

If you intend to get at the truth and not play the ignorant smart Aleck when dealing with serious matters, I am certainly only too glad to help you unearth the truth about LIFE itself, about YOU, about the universe and about the POWER and INTELLIGENCE that produces and governs it all. I am interested in the LIVING GOD who is operating NOW and who can easily be traced by any intelligent being; the whole world is the result of the operations of intelligence; while the lives of individual beings are governed by the degree of the intelligence they exercise.

Sincerely, KOSTI.

THE HIDDEN TRUTH

By Marie Harlowe

Did you vote for "Charlie McCarthy" or "Edgar Bergen"? In an editorial of the Chicago Tribune, January 18, 1941, entitled "Mr. Willkie Checks Out", it is said: "Republicans who wondered HOW he got in will feel relieved WHEN he gets out . . . It is now apparent that the proper place for the Republican nominee was the one the Democratic convention didn't want to give Henry Wallace but very well could have given to Wendell Willkie. Millions of Republicans now see that they were duped and were, in effect, voting the Democratic ticket. They might have changed the name of the man in the White House but they wouldn't have changed the plans and intentions at all in foreign policy, and probably not much in domestic policies".

I stated in the October, 1940, issue of THE OCCULT DIGEST that Willkie and Roosevelt were so similar, and so in accord, as revealed by their horoscopes, that I thought the Socialists were right in declaring the election a "put-up" job". The idea was so new to so many, unaccustomed to new ideas, that I was soundly scolded in many quarters. Now Mr. Willkie has become Roosevelt's "yes-man No. 1",—his errand boy to England to further involve us in war.

Quite aside from the moral issue that Britain needs our assistance, a point which many of us do not agree to, does Britain really need any financial assistance?

England controls ¼ of the territory and the population of the world, some 5 hundred million (500,000,000). The Axis "enemies" number 280,000,000. The United States numbers 132 million. And we are asked, 132 million of us, to help 500 million people beat down 280 million!

For years before the present trouble, England has been financing the re-armament program of Germany to the tune of 3 billion dollars. (Wonder who they thought Germany was buying guns to fight all this time?) Now, in the midst of their plea for funds, Parliament has just voted a half million dollars to build (in the midst of falling buildings in air raids), a Moslem mosque, an Islamic center to be erected in London. (And Britain's fight now is claimed to be for Christianity, with 9|10 of their Empire non-Christian). Is there any sense to building a half-million dollar building, for any purpose, in London today? England could not pay its debt to us for the last War, but can spend millions on Coronation foolishness and on Moslem mosques in air-raided London.

Great Britain has almost 6 billions (not millions) invested in assets in the United States, in the utilities, railroads, etc. and still cannot either pay her last War debt or finance this one without our help.

The United States recently gave one hundred million ($100,000,000) dollars to Russia, via China, and England added $40,000,000 to the same "pot", yet England has the nerve to solicit one dollar donations from us for British War Relief.

It is a foregone conclusion that the United States is going to be "skinned" again. Obviously England is untruthful about her resources. What the people in the United States do not know generally is that we have to pay high taxes when such War Loans are not repaid. If there was any honest intent to repay, England would first liquidate her billions in America and other foreign assets and then give us some security such as her priceless treasures in the British Museum, etc.

THY KINGDOM COME

(A Book Review)

I have read this amazing book twice, and I have a deep conviction that the startling predictions are true.

If one believes the Bible then they have to be regarded as true, for each statement is proved and verified by a Bible reference.

Of course the worldly-wise may not accept the facts as stated in "Thy Kingdom Come", but to the wise "Forewarned is forearmed."—A.L.S.

Not A Christian Scientist ?

Dear Mr de Aryan:

I saw my letter to you in print—was certainly a bit of a shock! But thank you for thinking it worth mentioning.

I'm afraid the Christian Science Church will make some protest at your labelling me a "Christian Scientist"—for, as I am not a member of the church, I would certainly be considered a "heretic", or, at least, not worthy to speak with authority. I write you this, so that you can say you had been misinformed, if you wish.

Sincerely yours, GERTRUDE HUGHES.

Jesus Not an Oriental ?

My dear Mrs. Hughes:

Don't worry about the Christian Science outfit going after you. They used to do it, till their publicity representative challenged once my statement that Jesus was an Oriental. The poor fellow must have imagined that He was born in Bethlehem, Pa. It was Mr. Lombard. He even made a trip from Los Angeles to my house to set me straight and attack my "Authority". Well, he has never bothered me since and since his retirement, his successor is following his example. It does not pay to challenge me, I am speaking with the authority of the truth. Membership in the church does not make a C. S.

"What are you crying about, Charlotte?" asked the teacher as she saw the child sobbing.

"The principal was just here and said I would have to stay in school until I am 16," cried the girl.

"You're lucky," cheered the teacher, "I've got to stay here until I'm 65."

Faith in Right Makes Might

(Radio Talk, K. G. B. Wednesday 7:15 pm, Feb. 12, '41)

"Let us have faith that right makes might; and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."—said Abraham Lincoln.

In this spirit Editor Herron, of the Nebraska Union Farmer, wrote the following editorial:

"Good Will Greater — Frequently we hear it said these days that military force is the only language the world understands. Military force is the only language the world is hearing from its military leaders, but it is not the only language the world can understand. The people, when they hear it, can understand the language of good will. Dictators may not understand this language, but their peoples do, and the simplest and most effective way to get rid of dictators is to let their peoples do it. The way of military force is the way of war, destruction, bankruptcy, and spiritual degradation. The way of good will is the way to peace, preservation, and spiritual growth. And good will, reaching down to peoples, is a greater force than military might."

I am getting many exchange papers from editors of small independent weeklies and in this week's Boise Valley Herald there is another good quotation from Abraham Lincoln. It is an extract from a speech by Lincoln, which remained in practical obscurity for over a hundred years, and which has taken on new significance today. It was made when Lincoln was but 28 years old. As though he could project himself into a new century and into new world conditions, Lincoln spoke with something of prophetic vision against what might be termed "subversive" dangers from within our nation to American liberty. Always a mystic, Lincoln comes to us over the vast expanse of years again as a man who "belongs to the ages."

"At what point shall we expect the approach of danger? By what means shall we fortify against it? Shall we expect some transatlantic military giant to step across the ocean and crush us at a blow? Never. All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined, with all the treasure of the earth (our own excepted) in their military chest, with a Bonaparte for a commander, could not, by force, take a drink from the Ohio, or make a track on the Blue Ridge, in a trial of a thousand years.

"At what point, then, is the approach of danger to be expected? I answer, if it ever reaches us, it must spring up among us. It cannot come from abroad. If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of freemen, we must live through all time, or die by suicide."

Class War, Dictator

That is plain talk, is it not? It tells us exactly where to look for dangers to our own liberties by a dictator from within.

When I look back 30 years and remember the time when immigrants were flocking over here from all over the world to work and develop our country, its farms, mines, railroads, forests and industries, and the liberties as well as production of wealth was abundant for all of us, I wonder sometimes whether our children and their children appreciate the real America. I do appreciate it, because I lived in the old world with its misery, its tyrany in burocratic government and its military slavery. In those days we did not have conscription, nobody would have dared propose it in America. But we had slavery of a different kind. Not chattel slavery, but economic slavery. I worked on the farms of large landholders, I slaved in the coal mines and I know the slavery of immigrants in our iron industry. Here the exploitation of the immigrant and of the poor white native was inhuman. I know what the seaman had to put up with in our fishing, our oyster fleets, how the longshoremen were treated as little better than working animals and so the result became inevitable. The great wrongs which were inflicted upon masses of humanity who had come to these shores for liberty, but found contract slavery and exploitation, these wrongs were crying to high heaven and the Knights of Labor started to organize exploited labor and had their inning. The doctrine of socialism imported from England and Germany; of Communism from Russia; started to take hold of the exploited masses and today we have the class war as the result, which is our own fault. Organized labor, lead by unscrupulous racketeers in many instances, has become as ruthless a menace as were the very leaders of American industry before Henry Ford introduced the $5 a day minimum wage. In those days men were slaving their lives out in front of roaring furnaces for a pittance and when worn out or crippled were discarded like old shoes. I know because I lived among them.

This cruelty of man to man produced just as ruthless labor leaders. The war is still going on. Henry Ford revolutionized industry but it was too late. The labor leaders discovered that they could exploit the masses just as well as the industrial magnates, because labor is gullible. So, today, the menace of organized labor is as great as that from organized exploiters of the old contract days in the horse and buggy age.

Stop - Look - Listen - There Is Danger Ahead !

Dear Friend:

Regarding the danger signal above: You seem to take the attitude that as long as you stand with the truth you have nothing to fear. That may be true, my friend, but at the same time we should not be off our guard against "beast and the devil", against "vipers and serpents" as Jesus named the Jews of His day who were after His life.

You evidently are not familiar with all the assassinations and murders they have committed against crusaders like yourself, as well as scores of secret service investigators on their trail who, they were sure, knew too much and needed to be removed from the scene for the Jews' security.

All the crusaders that I know are mighty careful whom they receive in conference without a loaded gun handy. They are also careful to make sure just who is behind their backs. And then never think of eating at public banquets or luncheons or dinners. Moreover, they are very careful from whose hands they take any food or water whatsoever. So beware, Mr. de Aryan, beware of what I tell you! Also if you drive a car, do not be out too late at night, and if you find anybody following you or edging you to a curb—step on the gas and run like hell.

Now that the Lease-Lend Bill has passed and bloody Armageddon as well as Civil War loom as certain, most of the Eastern crusaders are folding up; for they well know that it is the concentration camp for any but the military to try to oppose organized Jewry from now on. I don't mean to be an alarmist, but you must use caution.

Sincerely, A FRIEND.

GOD STILL RULES SUPREME

My dear and well meaning Friend:

Be at ease concerning my future, it is in God's hands and not in that of the devil, plural or singular. Some people might imagine that the lend-lease-give-away our liberties bill empowers Roosevelt to take over the world management from God Almighty, but they are just fooling themselves. God still rules the world with an iron rod, when they disobey His commandments; that is the very reason that Roosevelt is being made dictator. Americans have to be woke up rudely to learn that self-government means exercise of individual rights and the consciousness of such RESPONSIBILITY. They'll learn the hard way.

There seems to be a difference with a distinction between myself and the "crusaders" you mention. I am in the Lord's service and I never fold up. If I had ulterior motives, of course, I would be an opportunist and follow the wind.

I am not merely a private individual, I am a SYMBOL. I represent a principle. I stand for individual rights and liberty, which Roosevelt says he wants to assure "everywhere in the world", so I start with San Diego, or is it, and the U. S., out of Mr. Roosevelt's world? I just take him at his word and let's see what happens.

"Everywhere in the World"

(Radio Talk over KGB, Feb. 12, 1941)

President Roosevelt announced in a radio talk that we must help England establish freedom for the people everywhere in the world to worship God according to their conscience. J. B. Lewis, of San Diego, has written a letter to the editor asking who is a better citizen. A person who belongs to a patriotic organization and makes a fetish of saluting the flag, or one who is exhibiting religious scruples, as do the Jehovah's Witnesses towards saluting the flag, but live exemplary lives as law abiding citizens.

Mr. Lewis says that such a test could be made by finding the proportion of convicted felons who thumb their chest about being patriots and the proportion of convicted felons who belong to the Jehovah's Witnesses. He predicts that the school authorities would blush with shame and never again expel children from school for obeying their religious teachings.

News comes from Washington that the war department contemplates establishing the first concentration camp near Glendora, California, for conscientions objectors to military service on religious or other grounds.

How cheap would I be were I to break faith with myself and place my faith in loaded guns. I have never intentionally harmed anybody. I never advocated violence, not even against Jews, though their international Cahilla is engineering this war. As individuals I have always treated them curteously and respected their human rights. In fact when the day of reckoning comes, I am the fellow who will stem the fury of the mobs. I am in the Lord's service and fear no man. How could I break faith and fold up?

It is the very adventure of my life to stand with the truth and see what happens. That is the test of God's own power. What other power could we trust and be safe?

Sincerely, KOSTI.
